

Application for a Medicare Entitlement Statement

Purpose of this form

To apply for an exemption from the Medicare levy, the Australian Taxation Office requires you to acknowledge you have been issued with a Medicare Entitlement Statement when completing your income tax return.

The Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 makes the Medicare levy payable by individuals residing in Australia who are eligible for Medicare. Persons who are not eligible for Medicare can apply for an exemption from the Medicare levy in their income tax return.

Persons not eligible for Medicare

If you are not eligible to enrol in Medicare, you can apply for a Medicare Entitlement Statement if you are:

- a permanent resident of Australia, and
 - have been absent from Australia for 12 months or more.
 - have not returned to Australia to reside permanently.
- an Australian citizen who has been absent from Australia for more than 5 years.
- a New Zealand Citizen who travels frequently in and out of Australia and spends less than 6 months in a 12 month period in Australia.
- not an applicant for permanent residency.
- a person who:
 - does not meet the eligibility criteria under a Reciprocal Health Care Agreement. Countries include: Belgium, Finland, Italy, Malta, the Netherlands, Norway, Slovenia, Sweden, and the United Kingdom (including Northern Ireland).

A person is not eligible under a Reciprocal Health Care Agreement, if the following applies:

Even if you are not eligible for Medicare, you may still not be eligible for an exemption if you maintain a dependant that is eligible for Medicare. The Australian Taxation Office make the determination on whether you are eligible for an exemption.
